MAKAPUU LIGHT

WILL SHINE SOON

Plans for the Makapuu Point light-tower have arrived and work will be started at once. It is figured that the constructing of the tower will occupy the best part of three months.

When this light is lit for the first time its rays will dart through the most powerful lighthouse lens in the United States. The dwellings for the keepers have been finished and all that remains to be done is to build the tower. The water supply for the attendants at the light is being given serious consideration. It is thought that the rainfall is inadequate and that a pumping plant will have to be installed.
